Alaska® GROWN Source Book

2014 / 2015

Welcome to the Alaska Grown Source Book – your resource for local food and farm products. We have listed all the statewide farm and ranch operations and farm service businesses that have provided their information.

The Alaska Grown Source Book provides information about statewide resources and contacts relevant to Alaska agriculture. Throughout the book listings are divided by regions first, then alphabetically. Following some informative pages you will find a list of statewide Community Supported Agriculture (CSA) and U-Pick businesses, followed by a list of farmers' markets. The bulk of the book is dedicated to individual farm listings. At the end you will find a list of businesses providing support to Alaska farms. An index of individual farm listings concludes this publication.

We hope you enjoy the Alaska Grown Source Book and find this directory to be useful. We encourage you to become an active Alaska Grown buyer by looking for the Alaska Grown logo in grocery stores, at farmers' markets, and in your favorite restaurants.

Dear Fellow Alaskans,

Our local businesses provide excellent products and resources to better our lives – from landscaping our yards using locally grown plants, eating fresh and local foods, or providing high-quality hay for our livestock. Locally grown products are plentiful and support Alaskan communities and economics.

The Alaska Grown Source Book offers Alaskans a resource for locating locally grown products, as it is important to know where our food comes from and how it is grown. By looking for and purchasing products with the Alaska Grown symbol, you can support fellow Alaskans in producing more high-quality, local products.

Thank you for your commitment to support Alaskan farmers and processors by choosing “Closer, Fresher, Better...Buy Alaska Grown!”

Best regards,

Using the Alaska Grown Source Book is Easy!

Regions are divided into Interior, Kenai, South Central, South East, and South West and are color coded throughout the book to make finding what you are looking for simple!

Use the tabs (as shown below) on the side of the page or the Table of Contents to find what you are looking for.

CSAs & U-Pick	Statewide CSAs and U-Picks are listed, color coded according to their region, then sorted alphabetically.
Statewide Farmers' Markets	Statewide Farmers' Markets are listed, color coded according to their region, then sorted alphabetically.
Interior Farms	Interior Farms are color coded yellow throughout this publication and are sorted alphabetically.
Kenai Peninsula Farms	Kenai Peninsula Farms are color coded blue throughout this publication and are sorted alphabetically.
South Central Farms	South Central Farms are color coded green throughout this publication and are sorted alphabetically.
South East Farms	South East Farms are color coded orange throughout this publication and are sorted alphabetically.
South West Farms	South West Farms are color coded purple throughout this publication and are sorted alphabetically.
Farm Services	Statewide businesses that offer services to farms are color coded by region and then sorted alphabetically.
Farm Index	Statewide Farms are listed alphabetically first and then have their coordinating color in the background.

'Key to Icons' Throughout Source Book

 Businesses that participate in the Division of Agriculture Alaska Grown® program.	 Businesses that accept vouchers from the nutritional programs WIC (Women, Infants, Children), Quest, and the Senior Farmers' Market coupons will display these icons.
 Farms that were certified in 2014 as organic by the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture. This certification assures that only organic approved products have been used in the production of the approved food products. Certification must be renewed yearly. For more information visit www.ams.usda.gov/AMSv1.0/NOP .	 For more information on these programs visit: (WIC) dhss.alaska.gov/dpa/Pages/nutri/wic/default.aspx (Quest) http://dhss.alaska.gov/dpa/Pages/snap-ed.aspx (Senior) http://dhss.alaska.gov/dpa/Pages/nutri/fmnp/fmnpseior.aspx
 CSA are Community Supported Agriculture. See page 6 for more details.	 Farms use these icons to indicate that they may accept one or many forms of credit cards.
 U-Picks are businesses that offer customers the opportunity to pick their own produce. See page 9 for more details.	 Indicates that cash and/or checks are accepted.
 Farms or Markets that are open year round will display this icon.	 Search for this icon for businesses that have their own convenient farm stand near you.
 Can be found on Facebook.	 Farms use this icon to indicate that they may be able to ship to rural Alaska or out of state. Inquire with them for details.

Accessing Source Book Online

Community Supported Agriculture (CSA)

What is a CSA?

Community Supported Agriculture is a partnership between a local farm and a community of “shareholder” consumers. It is a relationship of mutual support and commitment in which a consumer purchases a “share” of what the farm produces during a growing season and then receives weekly deliveries of whatever is ready for harvest each week. The arrangement guarantees the farmer financial support when it is most needed early in the growing season and in return offers members a wide variety of locally seasonal foods harvested at their peak of freshness, ripeness, flavor, and vitamin and mineral content. Ultimately, CSAs create what is being termed “agriculture-supported communities” where small local farms can stay afloat and help to create healthier and more sustainable communities for all. Look for the icon to the right to see if a farm participates in CSAs.

U-Pick Farms

What is a U-Pick?

A U-pick or pick-your-own farm is a type of farm where customers are allowed to harvest their own produce. Since customers are allowed and often encouraged to eat while picking, an entry fee usually covers any produce customers may eat. Despite this, the produce at U-pick farms often cost less since the cost of hiring farmers to harvest the produce is precluded. Not all farms have the same produce so it is recommended you call for seasonal availability. Look for the icon to the right to see if a farm participates in U-Pick.
