

The holidays are approaching, and Alaskans are starting to decorate for the festive season. For many, the tree can be a focal point of holiday decorations. Several retailers sell Christmas trees, however, there are some folks who prefer to venture out to select and cut their own tree. If you are one of those people, the Alaska Division of Forestry provides for this holiday tradition.

Cutting Christmas trees on unrestricted state lands on the Kenai Peninsula is allowed with some stipulations. Cutting of trees is prohibited in state parks and Department of Transportation (DOT) rightsof-way. It is also prohibited on Alaska Native lands and other private property. It is important to properly identify land ownership where you intend to cut your tree. See the maps below for more detailed tree cutting areas. If you have any questions regarding land ownership, consult the Division of Forestry Area office in Soldotna at 907-260-4200.

No permit or fee is required to cut a tree. Trees must be no more than 15 feet tall and only one tree per household is allowed. Trees should be cut as low to the ground as possible. Christmas trees cut on state land are for personal use only and may not be sold. Please do not litter and be courteous to other tree cutters and/or residents who live in the area.

Keep in mind, the Division of Forestry does not maintain forest roads. Anyone traveling on forest roads should have appropriate gear and equipment in the event they become stuck. This includes tire chains, a shovel, tow strap and warm clothing.

For more information, contact the Alaska Division of Forestry, Kenai/Kodiak Area Office, Mile 92.5 Sterling Highway at 907-260-4200.

There are other public lands in the on the Kenai Peninsula where cutting of Christmas trees is allowed. Visit the links listed below or call the contact numbers to find out more information about cutting trees in the Chugach National Forest, Kenai National Wildlife Refuge and Kenai Peninsula Borough.

Chugach National Forest:

- <https://www.fs.usda.gov/detail/chugach/home/?cid=stelprd3822398> or call 907-743- 9500.

Kenai National Wildlife Refuge

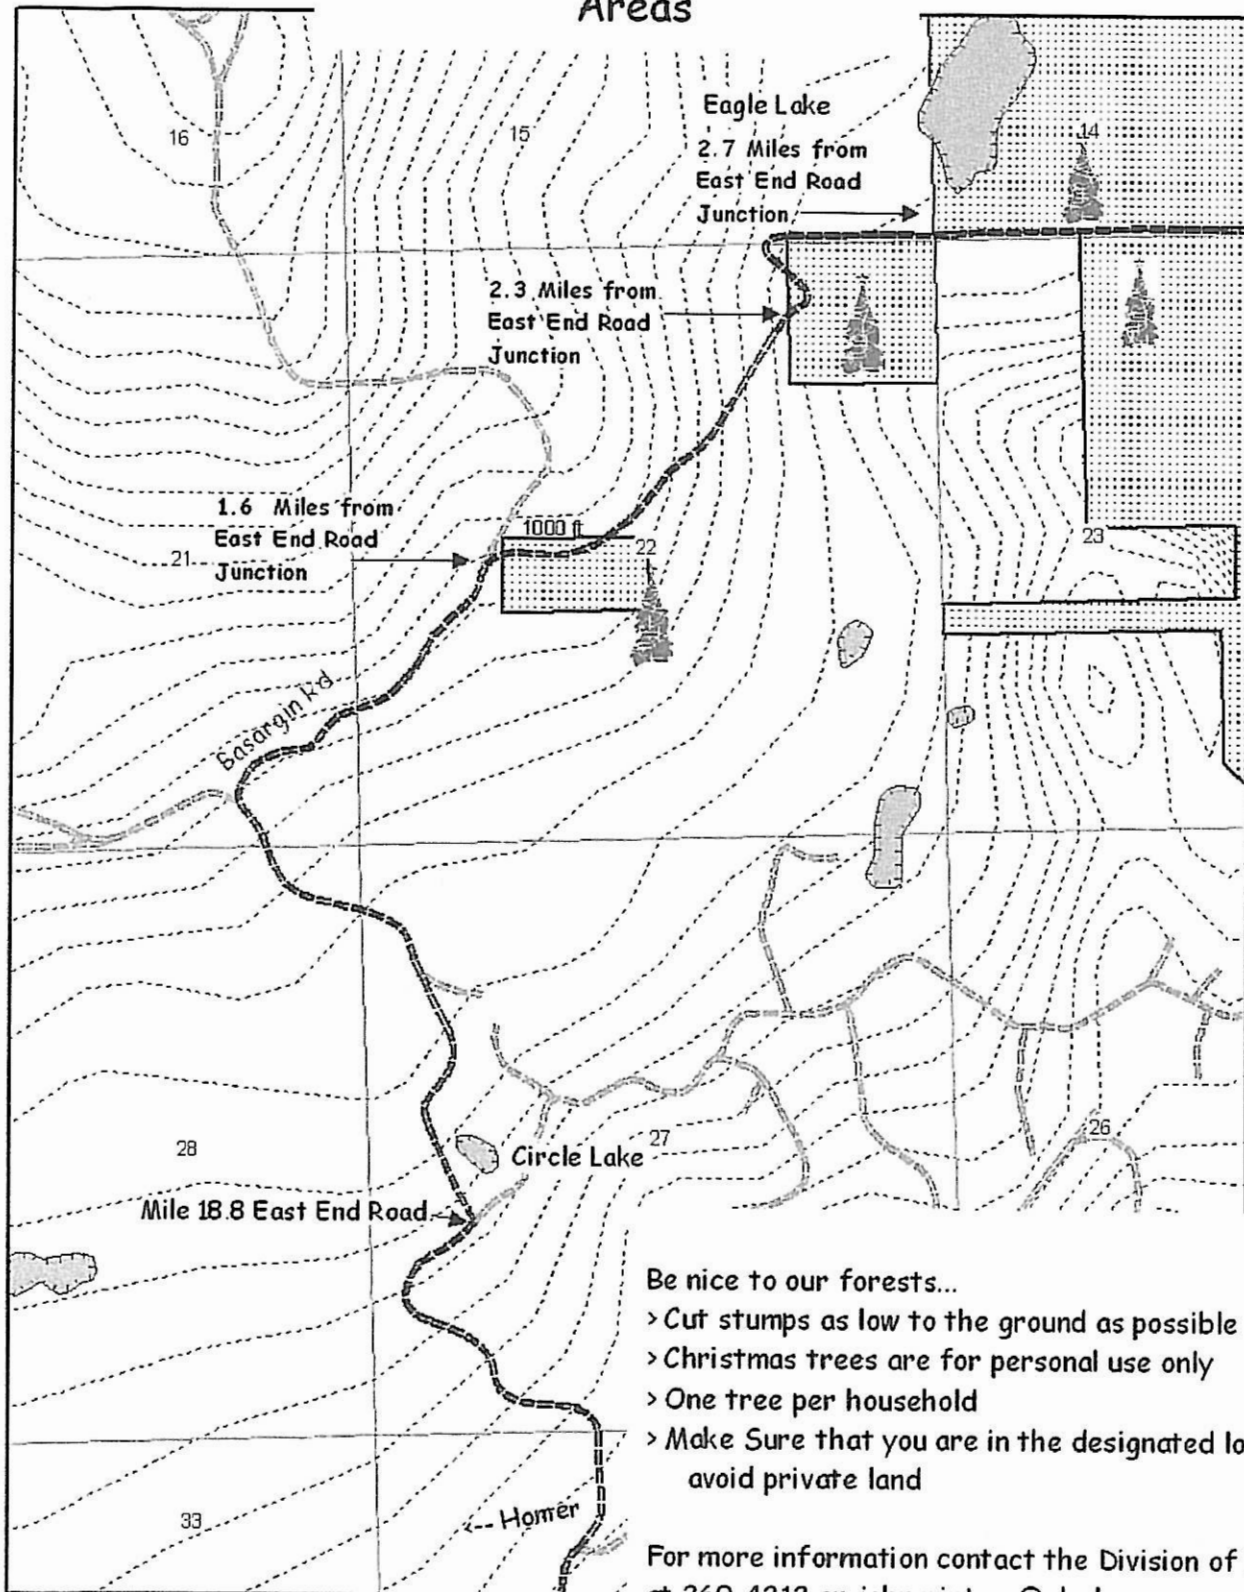

- Call 907-282-7021.

Kenai Peninsula Borough:

- <http://www.kpb.us/landmgt/about-landmgt> or call 907-714-2205

HAVE A SAFE AND HAPPY HOLIDAY!

East End Road Personal Use Christmas Tree Areas

Be nice to our forests...

- > Cut stumps as low to the ground as possible
- > Christmas trees are for personal use only
- > One tree per household
- > Make Sure that you are in the designated locations--
avoid private land

For more information contact the Division of Forestry at 260-4212 or john.winters@alaska.gov

 Christmas Tree Cutting Area

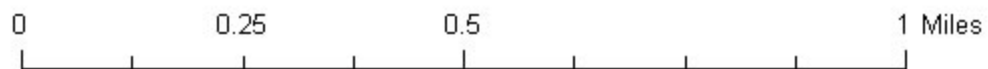

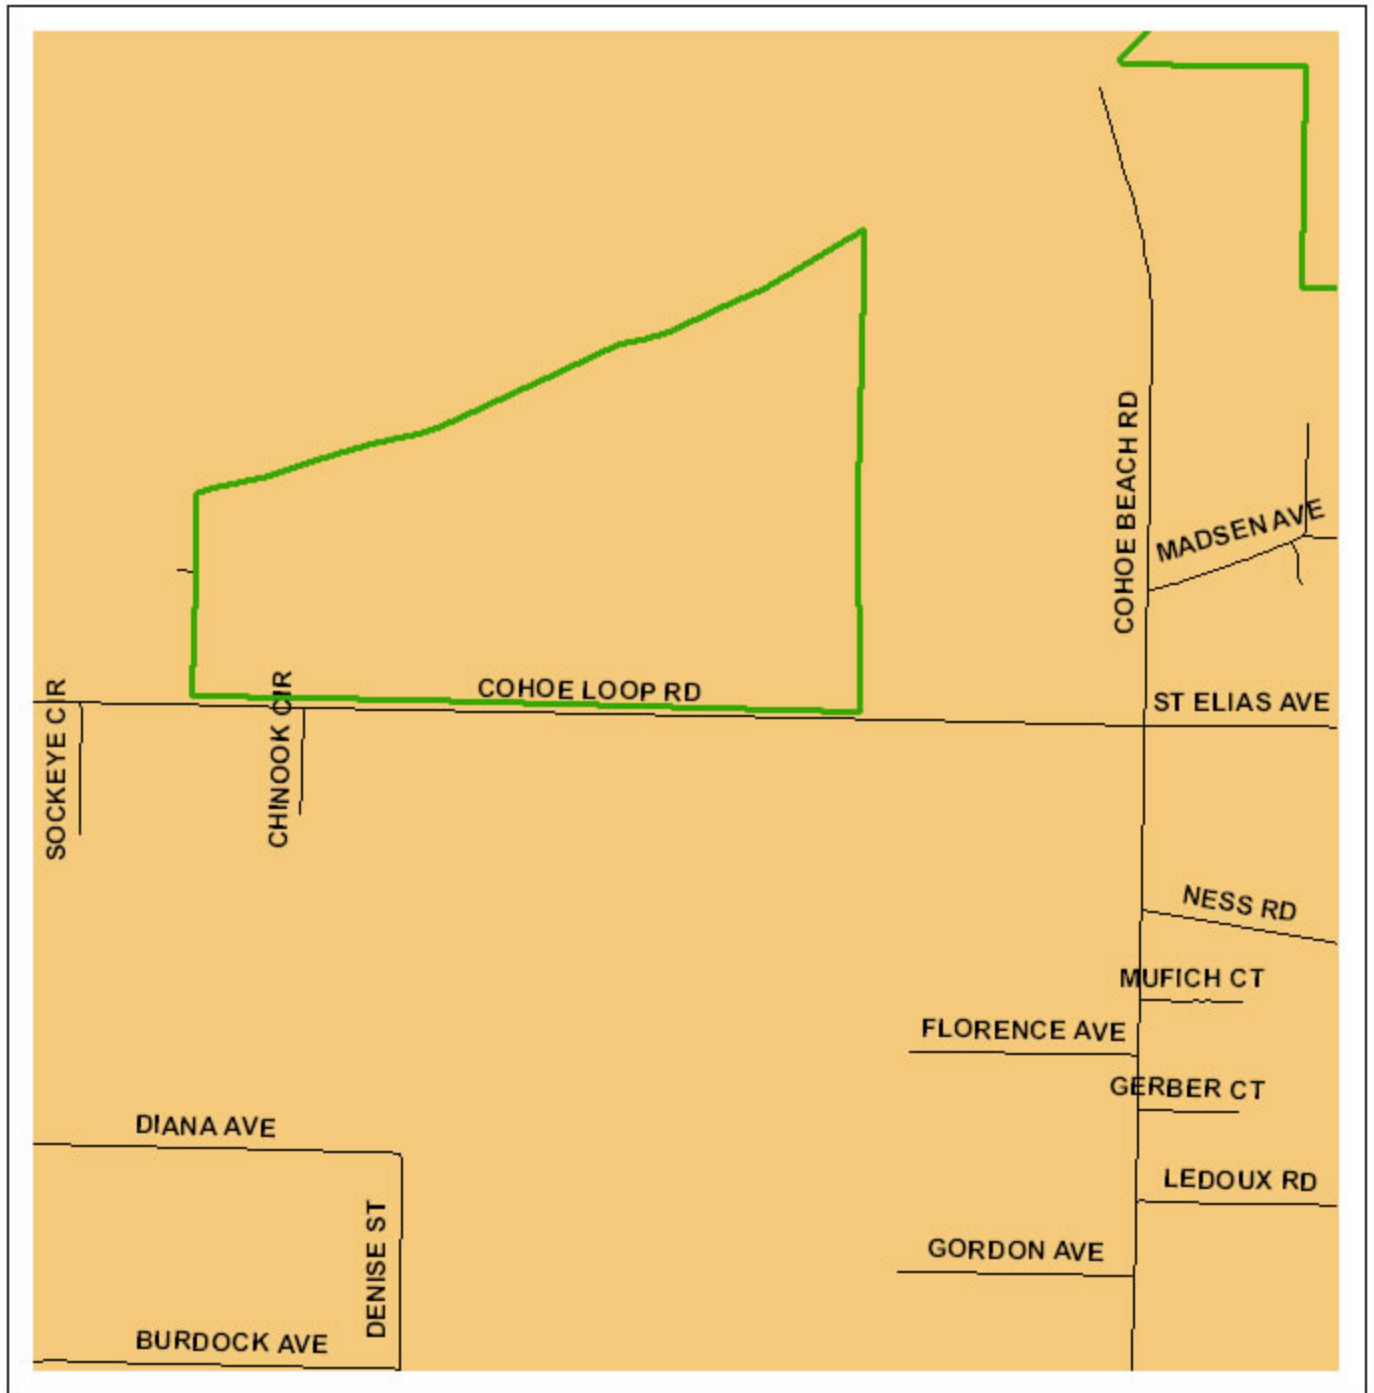

Division of Forestry
Kenai - East End Area
12499 Sterling Highway
Soldotna, Alaska

North

North Coho Bluff Christmas Tree Harvest Area

 State Land

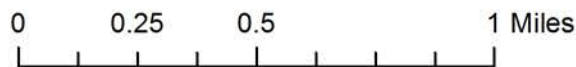

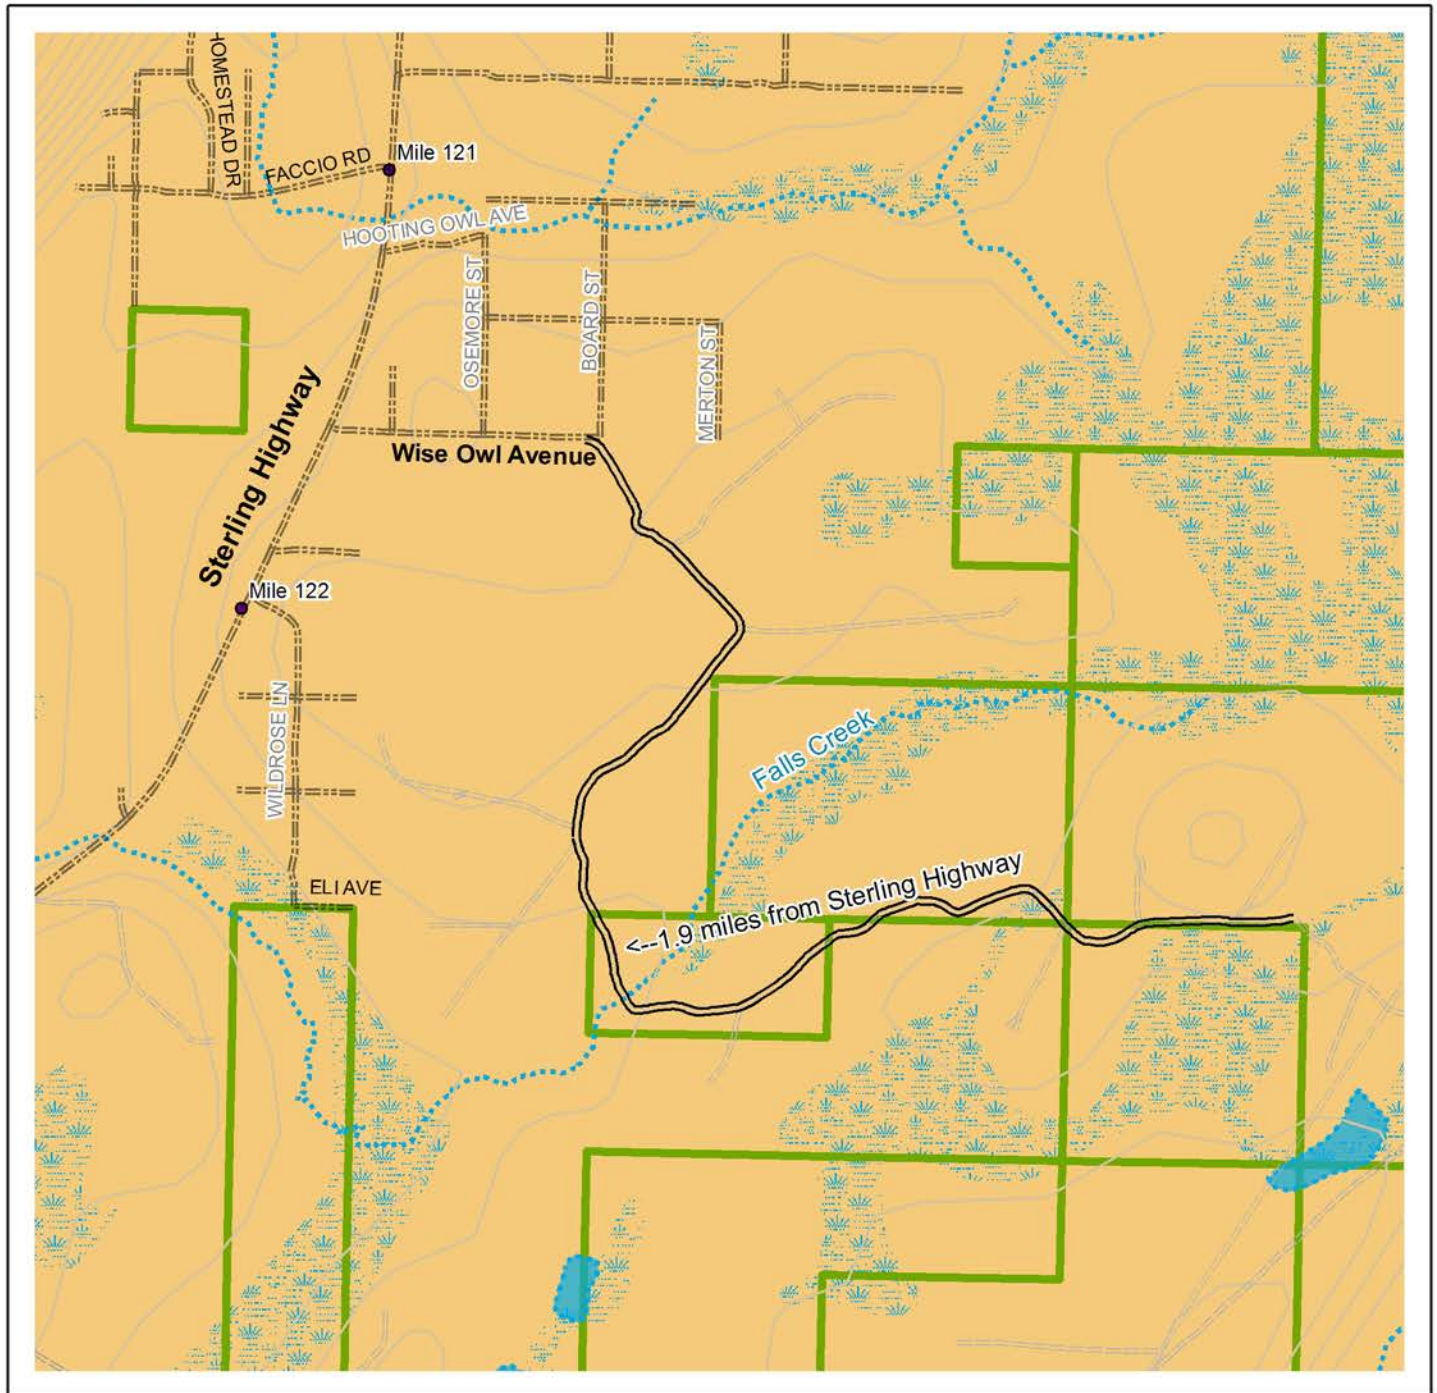

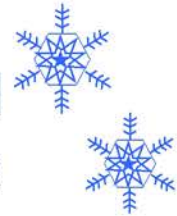

- Make sure that you harvest trees located on state land
- Always cut trees with safety in mind
- For further information, contact the Alaska Division of Forestry at 260-4212

North

Wise Owl (Falls Creek) Road Christmas Tree Harvest Area

 State Land

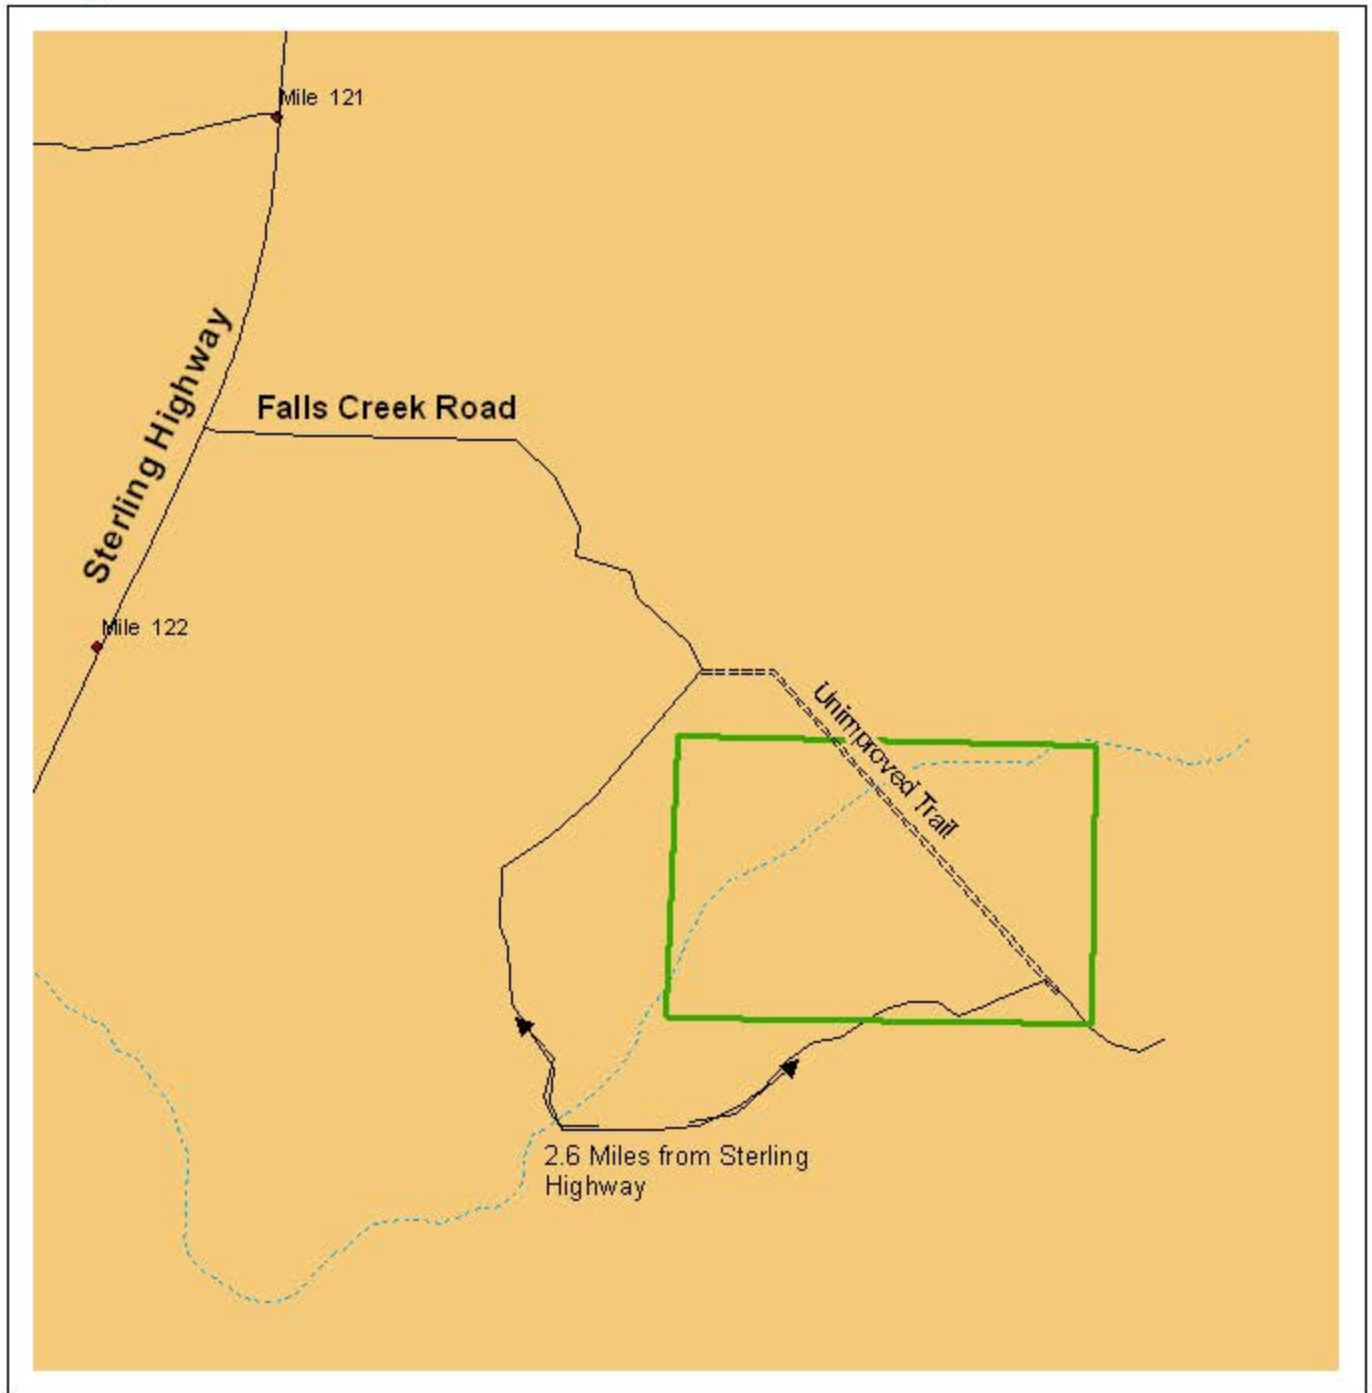

- Christmas trees are for personal use only--not for resale.
- Make sure that you harvest trees located on state land
- Always cut trees with safety in mind
- Limited Vehicle Access--Snowmachine / ATV recommended
- For further information, contact the Alaska Division of Forestry at 260-4200

North

Falls Creek Road Christmas Tree Harvest Area

 State Land

- Christmas trees are for personal use only--not for resale.
- Make sure that you harvest trees located on state land
- Always cut trees with safety in mind
- Limited Vehicle Access-- Snowmachine / ATV recommended
- For further information, contact the Alaska Division of Forestry at 260-4212

Oilwell Road Christmas Tree Harvest Area

- Christmas trees are for personal use only--not for resale.
- Make sure that you harvest trees located on state land
- Always cut trees with safety in mind
- Limited Vehicle Access--Snowmachine / ATV recommended
- For further information, contact the Alaska Division of Forestry at 260-4212

 State Land

North

Old Sterling Highway Christmas Tree Harvest Area

 State Land

- Christmas trees are for personal use only--not for resale.
- Make sure that you harvest trees located on state land
- Always cut trees with safety in mind
- Limited Vehicle Access--Snowmachine / ATV recommended
- For further information, contact the Alaska Division of Forestry at 260-1212

