Alaska Historical Commission to meet July 25

(Anchorage, AK) – The Alaska Historical Commission will meet in Anchorage and via teleconference on Monday, July 25, from 8:15 a.m. to noon. The meeting is open to the public and will be held in Suite 1270 of the Atwood Building, located at 550 West 7th Ave.

The commission will discuss plans for the 150th anniversary of the Alaska Treaty of Cession commemoration and review proposals for geographic names and for listing in the National Register of Historic Places. A preliminary agenda is posted at www.dnr.state.ak.us/parks/oha/index.htm.

Any person or group wishing to address the commission on matters relating to history, archaeology or historic preservation is invited to participate in the public comment session starting at 9:30 a.m. To comment by phone, arrangements must be made in advance by calling 907-269-8714.

A printed copy of the meeting agenda can be requested by calling 907-269-8721, emailing oha@alaska.net, or writing to the Office of History and Archaeology, Alaska Department of Natural Resources, 550 West 7th Ave., Suite 1310, Anchorage, AK 99501-3565.

The Alaska Historical Commission is the state board responsible for the state's historic preservation program and coordinating the program for naming geographic features in Alaska. More information about the commission is available at www.dnr.state.ak.us/parks/oha/index.htm.
