RECORDS REQUEST INFORMATION

The Division of Mining, Land and Water (the Division) is committed to responding to requests for public records in full compliance with the requirements of the Alaska Public Records Act and its implementing regulations (the APRA). The APRA can be found in the Alaska Statutes at AS 40.25.100 – 40.25.295. Public records regulations can be found in the Alaska Administrative Code at 2 AAC 96.100 – 2 AAC 96.370. Statutes and regulations are available for review on the Alaska State Legislature's website at: http://www.legis.state.ak.us/basis/folio.asp

If the requested files are readily available for review during business hours (see 2 AAC 96.100(b)), your request will be considered a file review request and APRA deadlines do not apply. File review requests are a type of public records request, usually involving an oral or written request for a case file or other readily available records that the requester can easily review, either in person or electronically. Staff will contact you to schedule a time to review the files in person, or if paper or electronic copies are preferred, staff will contact you to discuss copying, scanning, and/or personnel costs.

If the request is not for readily available documents, the Division may require payment of an estimate of any reimbursable costs before it begins or continues any search or copying. The requester must pay all reimbursable costs before records are provided. If there is a cost associated with the request, Division staff will notify you before completing the request. The Division charges $0.25 per standard-sized page for paper copies, and $0.03 per page for electronic copies of scanned documents. Copy costs will be waived if they are $5.00 or less. Additionally, the Division may charge for reimbursable costs such as SD cards, postage, retrieval of records from archives, and personnel costs (if the time required for searching, copying, and/or scanning records exceeds five person-hours in a calendar month per requestor). See 11 AAC 05.030 for more information on the Division's fees.

The Division has 10 working days to provide an initial response to your request. An initial response may include one of the following:

- A request for clarification to narrow the scope of your request to lessen the cost and administrative burden of responding to a vague or overly-broad request (see 2 AAC 96.315);
- A notification that the requested records are readily-available under 2 AAC 96.100(b) and not subject to the timing requirements of the APRA;
- A notification that the Division has identified your requests records as electronic services and products, as described in AS 40.25.110;
- A cost estimate for copy costs and/or staff time, and a request for payment;
- A notification that the Division is invoking a 10 working day extension of time under 2 AAC 96.325, or a written confirmation that you have agreed to a longer extension of time;
- Disclosure of the responsive records;
- A denial of all or part of your request under 2 AAC 96.335 (you may appeal a denial of a request by following the procedures in 2 AAC 96.340).

According to 2 AAC 96.310(a), file review request forms may be provided by an agency, but a request may not be denied solely because it is not on that form. In the alternative, the requestor can provide a written statement that they are not a party and/or do not represent a party involved in litigation with the state related to the topic of their request.
