

SAVING OUR PAST: PLANNING FOR OUR FUTURE

UPDATING ALASKA'S HISTORIC PRESERVATION PLAN

WHY?

- Every five years the Office of History and Archaeology, as the SHPO, facilitates the preparation of a statewide historic preservation plan that:
  - encourage broad public participation in planning for cultural resources,
  - meet challenges unique to each state,
  - influence historic preservation policy in state and local governments,
  - and empower local communities, organizations, and individuals to action.
- Saving our Past: Alaska Historic Preservation Plan will expire the end of 2017
- OHA is beginning our public outreach in the development of a new historic preservation plan for Alaska to guide us from 2018-2023.

PRESERVATION PLANNING IN ALASKA

- First statewide plan was written in 1970
- Work on a substantive revision of the plan began in the mid 1980s
- Saving Our Past written and adopted in 1995

SAVING OUR PAST 2011-2017

The 3rd edition of Saving Our Past is intended to guide preservation activities through 2017.

It identifies three principal needs for historic preservation in Alaska:

- Need for a statewide agenda
- Need for greater public awareness and understanding of historic preservation
- Need to make connections between economics and historic preservation

The plan establishes six goals to meet these needs.

SAVING OUR PAST 2011-2017

GOAL 1: Foster respect and understanding for Alaska's archaeological and historic resources and promote a preservation ethic.

GOAL 2: Continue existing partnerships and seek new ones to expand and strengthen the historic preservation community.

GOAL 3: Expand efforts to identify, study, designate, interpret, and protect or treat significant archaeological and historic resources.

SAVING OUR PAST 2011-2017

GOAL 4: Encourage consideration of archaeological and historic resources in the planning and decision making process of the public and private sectors.

GOAL 5: Promote historic preservation as an economic development tool and provide incentives to encourage it.

GOAL 6: Encourage appropriate treatment of historic resources.

Open until December 30, 2016

The graphic features a dark blue header with the text "Get Involved!" in white. A silhouette of an eagle is positioned above the title "Alaska's State Historic Preservation Plan 2018-2023". Below the title, the text "What Places Matter to You?" is displayed. A paragraph explains the purpose of the survey, stating that the Office of History and Archaeology is updating the plan and wants to know what historic places in the community matter most. It encourages participation to influence the direction of preservation over the next five years. At the bottom, there is a photograph of a row of colorful houses on a hillside, with a small text overlay that reads: "If you have any questions, contact Summer Rickman at summer.rickman@alaska.gov". The footer contains the website address "www.dnr.alaska.gov/parks/oha".

PLANNING TOPICS TO CONSIDER

- 50th Anniversary of NHPA- looking back on statewide successes and identifying persistent challenges.
- Underrepresented communities- “community” may be a place, cultural group, or segment of the population.
- Disaster and Resiliency Planning- this includes preparing and addressing climate change

BACK TO OUR CURRENT GOALS AND OBJECTIVES

Questions:

- Do you still think these goals and objectives are relevant?
  - Do they address current challenges and proposed planning topics
- How might you reword the current goals and objectives?
- If you were to propose a new goal, what would it be?
