Northern Alaska Oil & Gas Lease Sales Opened This Week

(Anchorage, AK) – The Alaska Division of Oil & Gas launched its annual lease sales for the Beaufort Sea, North Slope, and North Slope Foothills regions on Tuesday. Bids on more than 8 million acres will be accepted online through the EnergyNet platform until Dec. 5. Bid results will be published Dec. 11.

The Division of Oil & Gas will offer leases in all three regions with cash bonus bidding and fixed royalty. There are 312 tracts encompassing 933,000 acres available in the Beaufort Sea region. Three million acres are available in 2,052 tracts in the North Slope region adjacent to producing oil and gas units and recent exploration areas. The North Slope Foothills offering includes 818 tracts encompassing over 4 million acres.

Well and seismic data are available for prospective lessees through the tax credit program from the Division of Geological & Geophysical Surveys. Public well data can also be found through the Alaska Oil & Gas Conservation Commission.

To find out more about the Division Oil & Gas lease sales, visit the Lease Sales and Best Interest Findings website. Individuals interested in sale notices and results releases can sign up for e-mail updates at list.state.ak.us/mailman/listinfo/dog.leasing.

The Department of Natural Resources' mission is to develop, conserve, and maximize the use of Alaska's natural resources consistent with the public interest.
