Alaska Historical Commission to Host Spring Meeting on April 3

(Anchorage, AK)—The Alaska Historical Commission will meet virtually on Thursday, April 3, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. for the annual spring session. Topics will include:

- Considering seven Certified Local Government grant applications for statewide historic preservation projects
- Voting on two National Register of Historic Places nominations from the Fairbanks North Star Borough
- Evaluating two proposals to change the names of geographic features on Kiska Island in the Aleutians
- Updates on Historic Preservations from across the state
- Briefing on America250-Alaska

Any person or group wishing to address the Commission on grant applications, National Register nominations, or geographic name proposals is invited to participate in the Microsoft Teams public comment session starting at 10:00 a.m. Those wishing to comment by phone, listen to the meeting, or virtually attend the sessions must make arrangements in advance by calling 907-269-8714 or emailing dnr.oha@alaska.gov

The preliminary meeting agenda is posted at www.dnr.alaska.gov/parks/oha. Members of the public may request a printed copy by calling 907-269-8700, emailing dnr.oha@alaska.gov, or writing to the Office of History and Archaeology, Alaska Department of Natural Resources, 550 W. Seventh Ave., Suite 1310, Anchorage, AK 99501-3565.

The Commission is the review board for the state's historic preservation program and geographic names. More information about the Commission is available at www.dnr.alaska.gov/parks/oha

The Department of Natural Resources' mission is to develop, conserve and maximize the use of Alaska's natural resources consistent with the public interest.
