

PUBLIC NOTICE – PALMER PROJECT

Applications and Draft State Decisions

The Palmer Project is undertaking advanced exploration for copper, zinc, gold, and silver located on Alaska Mental Health Trust land in the Porcupine Mining District, 35 miles northwest of Haines, Alaska on the eastern margin of the Saint Elias mountain range in the Glacier Creek drainage. The project applicant, Constantine Mining LLC, applied for a Waste Management Permit and amendment to Reclamation Plan Approval (J20185690).

On April 16, 2019 the State of Alaska is releasing application documents for the Palmer Project's exploration activities and the following draft state decisions for a 30-day public review and comment period:

- Alaska Department of Natural Resources, Division of Mining, Land and Water, draft Reclamation Plan Approval (J20185690RPA) Amendment 1. The supporting document for review is Appendix C Reclamation Plans and Cost Estimates Palmer Advanced Exploration Project Haines, Alaska Phase II – Underground Exploration Upland Mining Lease No. 9100759 April 2019.
- Alaska Department of Environmental Conservation, Division of Water, draft Waste Management Permit No. 2019DB0001 for the containment and disposal of non-domestic wastewater and potentially acid generating waste rock from the Palmer Project.
