Alaska State Parks Updating Reservation System

(Anchorage, AK) – Alaska State Parks is transitioning to a new online reservation platform with the changeover to the reservation platform scheduled for October 1, 2026. Meanwhile, there will be some apparent changes in the current Reserve America system for public use cabins, shelters, and other reservable facilities.

The first change will be that no reservations will be available starting January 1, 2027 until the new system is in place. During this transition, reservations through Reserve America are available through December 31, 2026. All existing reservations from Reserve America extending past September 30, 2026 will be honored and migrated to the new reservation platform.

“We are excited about our new system launch and the updates that will benefit the public,” said Ricky Gease, Director of the Division of Parks & Outdoor Recreation. “Our intention is to make the transition as smooth as possible and keep everyone informed as we go.”

All existing customer accounts will be transferred to the new system; more information on the new login process will be announced as we approach the launch date. Gift certificates must be used prior to October 1 for a date prior to January 1, 2027. If your account has gift certificate credits with Reserve America, those credits WILL NOT be transferred over to the new platform.

All Reserve America gift certificates will expire on September 30, 2026, so please use them soon to book your next adventure with Alaska State Parks!

The Department of Natural Resources' mission is to develop, conserve, and maximize the use of Alaska's natural resources consistent with the public interest.
